JENNIFER SURFACE
Expert Investigator & Intelligence Specialist
Delivering Information & Insights Others Can't

Superior Credentials in Private Investigation & Intelligence Analysis:

With world-class credentials (Yale, FBI, other three-letter federal agencies, and boutique PI firms), Jenn represents a new breed of investigator for today's digital world. As a specially trained intelligence expert, Jenn understands how to harness an ever-growing world of electronic information, and use it to uncover critical information and insights that result in competitive advantage.

Specializing in the Difficult & Complex:

Jenn brought her experience and skills to the private sector, delivering much-needed advanced intelligence analysis tradecraft to complex legal investigations. Jenn works primarily with civil defense attorneys and corporate clients, serving as a "private intelligence agency" for the legal field and business community—tracking digital footprints, uncovering hidden gems of information, analyzing voluminous information, and generating critical insights for busy decision-makers.

Jenn specializes in:
- Pin-pointing the locations of hard-to-find individuals—witnesses, heirs to estates, and fraudsters
- Developing deep-dive background profiles of opponents, expert witnesses, and other individuals key to a case, revealing little known facts and critical insights for competitive advantage
- Discovering hidden assets of judgment debtors, divorcees, and scam artists so that clients can collect what is owed to them

Proven Track Record of Delivering Crystal-Clear Competitive Advantage:

Jenn now applies her unique experiences, training, and trusted skills to create secret-sauce capabilities that set her and her colleagues miles apart from others in its field.

Over the course of her career, Jenn:
- Designed and led a host of highly specialized and classified global analysis across the US Intelligence Community. Among her accomplishments:
  - Delivered results of analysis on high-priority national security issues to senior audiences across government, including at the White House and Pentagon;
  - Helped bring terrorists to justice, tracked illicit financing, reverse-engineered al-Qa'ida's propaganda, and empowered the US Government better understand the international competitive landscape, foreign populations, and foreign leadership.
- Uncovered strategic insights and delivered critical competitive intelligence for a leader in the Unmanned Aircraft Systems (UAS) industry;
- Empowered countless attorneys across Southern California and beyond with deep research, due diligence, legal discovery, and cutting edge investigative services.

Top-Tier Education:

Jenn attended Yale University as an undergraduate (BA Political Science), and the National Intelligence University (MS Strategic Intelligence) graduate program. NIU is an elite, one-of-its-kind government program for security-cleared intelligence professionals in Washington, DC.

Personal:

Jenn loves being a mom and a spouse, but no matter how many years have passed she also remains a legend (in her own mind) from past years of fastpitch softball glory—where she acquired the competitiveness and tenacity that her clients love today! A recruited athlete at Yale University, Jenn still dominates the school's record books in all major categories of pitching statistics. She hopes and prays her career strike-outs record will stand forever unbroken (or at least until her son enters college).
